Introducing Foundry Developments: A New Era in Thoughtful Living and Working Spaces

[Vancouver, BC, February 21, 2025] – Foundry Developments an evolution of Formwerks Boutique Properties, is proud to announce its new name and brand, marking a significant step forward in enhancing homes and workplaces designed for those who inhabit them. With a focus on building for everyday life, Foundry emphasizes the importance of belonging—whether at home, at work, or within the community.

At Foundry, the spaces they create resonate with the intrinsic human need for connection and comfort. Their homes are thoughtfully designed with features that ensure lasting value for their residents. Their workplaces are designed to inspire and empower and they strive to create environments that foster creativity and collaboration, without forgoing comfort and convenience.

“This is more than just a name change,” says James McKenny, VP of Sales and Marketing at Foundry Developments. “It is a testament to our commitment to building a brighter future for new communities, be it homes or office spaces. We’re excited to continue our legacy of design excellence while embracing new opportunities and growing with the changing seasons of our lives.”

Foundry's essence lies in the fusion of creativity, expert craftsmanship, and a meticulous design philosophy. They prioritize consistency, durability, quality and attention to detail. Homes are thoughtfully designed with features that enhance daily living, while layouts carefully balance privacy with opportunities for togetherness, acknowledging the multifaceted needs of modern life. They continue to embrace architectural styles that seamlessly integrate with their surrounding neighbourhoods, reflecting the unique character of each community.

Join us on this exciting new chapter as we continue to shape the future of living and working in the Lower Mainland.
